

Faith Isiakpere–Broadcaster; Producer and Director

Born in 1955 in Nigeria and educated in Britain from age 11 years. Faith Isiakpere is a Life Member of British Academy of Film and Television Arts [BAFTA]. Faith has been working in the Media and Entertainment Industry since 1974. He started as a performing artist with the Greenwich Young People's Theatre in London in 1974. He studied Film and Television Production at West Surrey College of Art and Design 1975-1978

From 1978- 1991 Faith worked in the UK for British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), Thames TV, Central TV and between 1991-1993 – he worked in the United States of America (USA) as a free-lance producer for Black Entertainment Television (BET) and other smaller independent production companies. In 1999 he started working in Nigeria as a Broadcaster for Minaj and continued until present as both broadcaster and consultant to Nigerian Media Networks.

Nollywood is now known the world over. In 1999, Faith was instrumental in the establishment of Nollywood when he became head of Content and Broadcasting at Minaj Broadcasting International [MBI] and Minaj System Television and Radio[MST] in Nigeria. Within three months of arriving at Minaj, Faith managed to turn the independent Network broadcasting from an 8 -hours a day network to a daily 24 hours Family Entertainment Channel broadcasting from different regions of the vast country of Nigeria in both Television and Radio with at least 80 % being local content.

Faith has completed many award-winning production including 4 feature films, numerous television and stage productions- and is currently working on his 5th feature film and a feature length documentary on 'Mandela's Africa'. Faith based between South Africa and Nigeria.